

The 2nd European Conference on Donor Health & Management

13th -15th July 2016

Homerton College, Cambridge, England

Register
now

You are warmly invited to attend ECDHM in Cambridge, England, 13-15th July 2016. The ECDHM is the primary platform to share knowledge and learn about the latest developments in science, policy and experiences in the field of donor health & management. The programme will cover blood, organ and stem cell donors, with emphasis on blood donors. It will provide a unique opportunity to meet peers and experts in the field and to exchange ideas and strategies.

Registration and abstract submission now open at www.ecdhm.org

Conference Themes

- Genetics / Biomarkers
- Behaviour
- Outcome / Risk

The presentations by eminent speakers, posters and the networking activities will all help to increase your knowledge of these subjects. The 10 Conference Sessions will include presentations on 'The Donor of the Future' and "Helping Donors to Reveal Risky Behaviours".

2nd European Conference on Donor Health and Management 2016

UNIVERSITY OF CAMBRIDGE

Blood and Transplant

13th-15th July 2016, Homerton College, Cambridge, England

Who Should Attend?

The programme is aimed at a broad range of professionals and subject experts in the blood and organ community, including: Chief Executive Officers, Medical Directors, Doctors and Nurses, Blood Collection Staff, Donor Recruitment and R&D Staff working in Blood and Organ Services, together with Researchers, Communication Teams and Regulators.

For further information please contact Clare Beach, Conference Manager, ecdhm2016@azuraevents.co.uk twitter.com/ECDHM #blooddonorconference!

Linked in: ECDHM

www.facebook.com